A: Since i have set my pc to never lock itself it has stopped coming up on restart I don't think that is the problem. "The Intel Anti-Theft® feature is available on a limited number of devices that you can access via the Intel Anti-Theft website and for which you must provide a password when accessing the site." and locks for ever after each device service reset. I am not sure where you are seeing that. I cannot find anything in my Intel management console that says that it locks after it detects the PC has been reset. i get the option to enter a password to unlock it and i have no chance of getting my pc back Have you tried the built in tools in Device Manager. If I remember right it has some built in tools to remove the drivers from the system that let you do a re image/restore the system. If that does not work then you would need to post the image of the screen with the popup window. Also an image will help us to provide an answer with more detail. 20-13 loss to Nebraska. (Published Thursday, Nov. 29, 2010) Well, that didn't take long: No. 5 Stanford snatches defeat from the jaws of victory. The No. 4 Cardinal were in position to overcome Oregon State's struggles with a clutch touchdown pass from Andrew Luck to Jared Abbrederis with 1:20 left in the game. Oregon State wouldn't go away, however, and drove down the field in one play to knot the score at 20-13. Oregon State came away with the win, 24-20, over the Cardinal (6-1, 3-1 Pac-12). Oregon State quarterback Sean Mannion passed for 222 yards and three touchdowns, while Luck tossed 206 and two touchdowns. (AP Photo/Jim Haner) Stanford is jumping back in first place in the Pac-12 South, but the Cardinal were one key play away from being 3-1. The Cardinal (6-1, 3-1 Pac-12) would have its win assured with a victory, but the Stanford defense couldn't stop Oregon State (6-1, 4-0) after Oregon's kicker missed a potential game-winning field goal attempt with 17 seconds left. Oregon State took advantage of a third down incompletion from Stanford quarterback Andrew Luck to get down to the Stanford 1-yard line before the game ended. The Cardinal, despite the

If you are unable to remember or recover your unlock password, the Anti-Theft service will follow its design and lock the device. At this point, your only.
