The extension simply displays “Security Center” menu item in the Tools > Virus & Threat Protection menu. When you click on the menu item, you will see the Security Center page, which offers three options. The first one allows you to choose between the two available cloud engines (ETHOS or SPERO), and it also allows you to enable/disable cloud-based scanning. The second option is to search for malware online, and it offers several search providers that can be selected. Also, this option allows you to choose between the regular definition updates, the definitions available in the ZIP format, and the ones available in the DMG format. Lastly, you can also get and download updates from the online providers. The third option allows you to configure the features of the extension. To be honest, I don't use any of the cloud engines or the update services, but the idea is very interesting. I guess that's why I tested it. Great security software! Reviewed by simeon1 on Monday, August 11, 2017. I found this software to be very useful. As a mom of 6 kids, my computer is the lifeline to my house and for me, this is the most important thing I need to protect. After trying for a couple of weeks, I found it to be simple and easy to use. I did not have to pay $300 to $500 for an antivirus. This one costs $29.99. I was expecting it to be very high. I also was amazed at how fast it found the nasty stuff and how it did not slow down my computer. Also, I found it to be very light on my computer. If you want the absolute best, download this one. A great antivirus! Reviewed by Verity on Wednesday, August 6, 2017. I tried out this program and I must say, I'm very impressed. It works fine and does everything you need in a good antivirus program. It is fairly simple to use and is not difficult to find things you need to clean off. I highly recommend it! Very clean! Reviewed by Chatterbox on Thursday, August 1, 2017. This was the first time I tried an antivirus software that I thought would be useful to me. I was pleasantly surprised at how clean it kept my computer. I like the fact that I don't have to go out and spend $500 for an antivirus. I like that it's a little light and it doesn't slow my computer down. I think it's the perfect antivirus to have and I highly recommend this to anyone. Best free antivirus for Mac Reviewed by anonymous on Monday, July 24, 2017. This is my first time to be using an
